Currently Dr. Levy is in private practice in Maui, HI where she works with individuals, couples, and families either in a typical office setting, by phone, by video conferencing, in intensive retreats, or all of the above. Additionally, she developed and teaches a course in energy medicine, energy psychology, energy sociology and energy ecology entitled Resonance Therapy[®] and Resonance Healing[®]: a technique to help a practitioner personalize and attune to the “right-tool” for the “right-person” at the “right-place” and the “right-time” (because not all healing works for everything or everyone all the time).
